(Wildwood, Missouri – September 1, 2017) Geneviève Steidtmann, long-time resident of the St. Louis area, has announced her candidacy for District 101 of the Missouri House in 2018. District 101 includes parts of Wildwood, Chesterfield, Clarkson Valley, Ballwin, and Ellisville.

“I’m running for the Missouri House because, as a small business owner, a parent, and an invested citizen, I feel a moral imperative to help make the people of Missouri our state’s top priority. Our current politicians have ignored the needs of our citizens by reducing healthcare coverage, suppressing wages, and making Missouri a discrimination haven, all while ignoring our failing infrastructure, underfunding our schools, and actively attacking the rights of women and Missouri’s most vulnerable residents. That does not represent the Missouri or the District I know and love,” Steidtmann said when asked about her decision to run for office for the first time.

Geneviève is a corporate professional with over 25 years of experience with both large and small organizations. She started a consulting firm, G Ink., Incorporated in 2001. Her firm specializes in project management, communications, human resources, merger integrations, and systems implementations. She has wide-ranging experience from start-ups to Fortune 500™ companies to not-for-profits. She is proud to call many St. Louis-based companies her clients.

She also serves as Co-Chair of the Board of the Missouri Courage Scholarship (MCS), which is the largest, state-wide LGBTQ scholarship organization in Missouri. MCS has awarded over $25,000 in scholarships to graduating high school seniors over the past two years.

Geneviève has lived in the St. Louis area for the past 20 years. She lives in Wildwood with her husband David and daughter Lauren. She grew up in Laramie, Wyoming and holds a bachelor's degree in organizational communication from Northwestern University.
